

Digital History

www.digitalhistory.uh.edu

Examining a Life History

Created by the Library of Congress

<http://memory.loc.gov/>

1. What is the title of the life history that interests you?
2. What is the state where this life history was recorded?
3. What is the name of the person who was interviewed?
4. What is this person's profession?
5. Who was the interviewer?
6. What interests you about this person's life history?
7. Did the interviewer describe the setting where the interview took place?
8. If yes, briefly describe the setting:
9. Does the description help you to visualize the place?
10. If no, where do you think the interview took place?
11. Describe the place you imagine and why you think it took place in that setting:
12. How does the description help you to visualize the place?
13. Did the interviewer: (circle one)
 - A. quote the person interviewed telling their story
 - B. mix his/her words with quotes from the person interviewed
 - C. re-tell the story without quoting the person interviewed